Our Vision
To liberate young people to become life-long learners and to live meaningful, selfless and spiritual lives.
Our Story

Irene McCormack Catholic College was established in 2000 by the Catholic Education Commission of Western Australia in response to an increased demand for Catholic education in the rapidly growing north western corridor of Perth, Western Australia.

The College is owned by the Archbishop of Perth who, together with the other WA Bishops authorised the Catholic Education Commission lead Catholic schools as a means through which the Church proclaims the Gospel of Jesus and to support parents as the first educators of their children.

The College was named in honour of Sr Irene McCormack. The College started with 30 students in 2002, in small, temporary premises close to the planned school site on Bradman Drive, Butler.

As the suburb of Butler and surrounds continued to develop, the College has grown in 2016 to student enrolment of almost 1,000 students, with 100 staff.

The College motto ‘Prayer Service Justice’ is strongly exemplified in the person and life of our patron, Sr. Irene McCormack.

Irene McCormack grew up as a fairly typical West Australian country girl. Born on 21st August 1938 she was raised on a farm at Trayning near New Norcia and very early on emerged as a vibrant, determined and fun-loving girl. She went to boarding school at Santa Maria College and it soon became evident that she had two great loves - to serve God and to educate young people. After joining the Sisters of St. Joseph she spent many years teaching in schools in country areas. She constantly challenged the Bishops to act more justly in providing resources for country children. For Irene it was an issue of justice.

In the mid-1980’s Irene experienced a real dilemma with her vocation. She continually proclaimed about mission in the Church to be an active part of the Global church and felt she had to volunteer to work with the most needy in order to be true to herself.

Irene arrived in Peru in 1987 and was appointed to the Huasahuasi District in 1989. She took up the challenge of ministering to the impoverished, “I have come to understand that effective action is a way of loving”.

For political reasons Communist rebels, the Shining Path, did not welcome missionaries and despite recognising the danger, Irene and her fellow sisters continued to work with and for the village people, “I really believe and have experienced that the more committed you are the freer you are”.

On 21st May 1991 Irene’s fears were realised when she and five others were dragged to the village square by the rebels and told to lie face down. Irene was executed by a shot to the back of her head.

Irene’s ‘crime’ in the eyes of her murderers was caring for, working with and handing out Caritas food parcels to the impoverished villagers.

One of the ways Irene lives on in our College community is that her family members attend school events during the year.
